Leading International Lodging Company Chooses Jonckers To Localize Training and E-learning Content

BRUSSELS, Belgium and PORTLAND, Oregon, US – One of the world’s leading lodging companies recently chose Jonckers Translation and Engineering to help the company more effectively communicate with non-English-speaking service and operations workers in their native languages. Employing workers at thousands of properties in more than 60 countries who speak more than 30 languages, the global operations department selected Jonckers to guide the department’s foray into localization.

In the first phase, Jonckers will localize training and e-learning content -- which entails translation, documentation, desktop publishing and voice-overs -- into Canadian French and Latin American Spanish.

About Jonckers

Jonckers Translation and Engineering -- 2007 Microsoft Service Vendor of the Year (as LCJ) and a Microsoft Preferred Vendor -- delivers software, eLearning and multimedia localization services to the world’s leading companies. In December 2008, Belgium-based Jonckers, Germany-based Locotech, and Italy-based CrossGap announced that after more than a decade of successful partnership, they had merged under the Jonckers name. Jonckers now has wholly owned offices spanning Asia, Europe and North America. For more information, visit www.jonckers.com.
